SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

To the School Board of Brentwood:

I herewith submit my eighth annual report as superintendent of the Brentwood schools—an account of the year which ended last June, a glance at our current procedures and some suggestions for the future.

Statistics are often uninteresting, if not actually misleading, but they have great value in a report of this kind for they present, in concrete form, information which is sought for and they show us some of the vital facts of school life for comparison —they enable us to see our progress or lack of it.

One of the main objectives of the teachers during the last eight years has been a betterment of attendance and punctuality in all our schools. Two columns in Table 1 show at once that they have had a large measure of success. The percent of attendance for the year ending June, 1927, was by far the best that Brentwood has had in nine years while the number of cases of tardiness has been reduced to seventy-five, the lowest in nine years. Parents ought to receive a share of the credit for this state of affairs for they are looking more keenly to the health of their children than they have in the past; the Selectmen and Road Agents also should receive a share of the credit because winter roads are now better than they have ever been; the children should receive a share of the credit because in many instances they have made genuine effort to attend school and be there on time. This record for attendance and punctuality is considerably above the average in similar schools throughout the state. It is all the more important in the light of information which Table VI gives us, namely; that Brentwood had almost six days—over a school week —more of school than in the year ending June, 1926.

Table II shows a satisfactory attendance record last year for all the schools. It ought to be said that the South Road School, which the year before had a record of 89.21 percent of attendance, succeeded last year in bringing that figure up to 95.54 percent of attendance. It is a source of satisfaction too to see the names of so many pupils having a perfect attendance for one or more terms—sixteen more than in any one of the last eight years. The record for several years follows:

Year	Pupils in School	On the Honor Roll
1919-1920	106	28
1920-1921	102	24
1921-1922	94	22
1922-1923	90	7
1923-1924	78	13
1924-1925	85	11
1925-1926	98	30
1926-1927	96	46

I call your attention to Table VI and to the fact that last year Brentwood reduced, by about fifty percent, the number of days lost from school and this at no added cost to the district. You are to be congratulated on securing this advantage for your schools. Th record so far for the current year is still better.

Table VII shows how Brentwood stands in comparison to other similar districts in this union with regard to cost of schools.

But attendance and punctuality would be of little use if the pupils found nothing in the schoolhouses in the way of teaching ideas and accomplishment. The year which closed last June was in general accomplishments a good one. We emphasized again our new method of spelling, we gave added attention to penmanship and to oral reading, striving at the same time not to neglect the other fundamental subjects. The usual tests, described in previous reports, were given and the results on file in the school board office show that teachers and pupils, while not succeeding in every case in getting passing results, at least tried to succeed. We have as evidence of successful work pupils promoted into all the grades including the high schools.

Our enrollment for the current year is large. Crawley's Falls School has been practically full since September and in the North Road School we have had five more pupils than we had seats for, making it necessary for five pupils to sit with others. This is a procedure which should be allowable only under the greatest necessity; it adds to disciplinary troubles and detracts from accomplishments with lessons and books. I suggest that, if the numbers are to continue to be so large in this school, single seats be installed so that every pupil may have his own desk. Practically all the seats in the other schools are now filled.

With reference to the future, I suggest a continuation of your policy of expecting thirty-six full weeks of school, that is, one hundred eighty days of school in the year and I suggest that as teachers retire from service we give due consideration to the professional training of candidates to take their places.

I believe the immediate future should see accomplished the plans for sanitation and light at the South Road School, Crawley's Falls School and Marshall's Corner School. I quote from my report of last year:

"I believe, however, that the South Road schoolhouse should be painted and that the shed and toilets there should be abandoned and new equipment built during the coming summer. (A report on this matter is due from a special committee at this time). New steps at the Marshall's Corner schoolhouse are needed immediately and it seems to me that in the near future shed and toilet conditions there should be improved. The Crawley's Falls schoolhouse is practically full, a condition which makes the best lighting imperative. As was noted last year, conditions there were improved by the trimming out of trees but the ratio of window area to floor area is 1 to 8; sanitary experts recommend that the ratio be at least 1 to 4 or 5. Extra window area could be added at no great expense. The highway approach to the North Road schoolhouse from the direction of Epping is more or less blind. A simple inexpensive warning sign for automobile drivers might result in the saving of lives in this school."

The continued interest of the School Board, of parents and of citizens in general in all that concerns the school is much appreciated.

Respectfully submitted,

CLIFTON A. TOWLE,
Superintendent of Supervisory Union No. 16

Exeter, N. H., February 8, 1928.
